Just in time for the 2016 California Strawberry Festival, we caught up with Kid Darius (2006) -- also known as KD -- as he spent some time prepping some berries with Chefs Bonnie and Eric. And KD was almost as enthusiastic about learning the art and safety of cutting strawberries as he was when it came to dipping them in chocolate!

KD was tutored on the nutritional facts of strawberries as well, and recalling the fruitful information could be "berry" easy for KD because he's got quite a memory. KD is performing at grade level in school and benefits from a little extra support that special education services provide. KD is an energetic kid and needs some prompting every now and then to stay on track. With the right amount of attention and role modeling, KD proves to be quite the sous-chef!

KD has a fun and engaging personality and an expansive vocabulary that can make getting to know him a breeze. He also has some significant connections in Southern California that need to be maintained. And just like KD learned that strawberries can go well with salad greens as well as chocolate, KD has the potential to be a sweet ingredient in different types of family structures.

We are looking for a loving and patient permanent family in which KD can grow and thrive. To see more of our festive time with Kid Darius, tune in to Wednesday's Child. And to learn more about adoption, pick up the phone and call 1-866-921-ADOPT (2367).
